Sugar and Spice Essay
August 28, 2004

I really enjoyed the Sugar and Spice class. Over the past few weeks of modeling classes I learned how to think before I speak so I sound mature. I also learned how to set the table, how to do doubles, to always say please and thank you, and to always think positive about myself.

I've changed some things about my self because of this class. I'm focusing on better grammar by not saying like, um, yep, or nope. I'm also improving on my runway, thinking positive about myself, and developing better manners. I had a fun time in this class and I know I will do well when I get my first job!
