

Mackenzie Zutter

What I learned in Sugar and Spice class.

I learned how to walk on the runway, and that you should not look goofy like a clown but to look serious.

I learned that you should not say; like, um, nope and yup.

I learned a lot of new poses and it was fun practicing them.

My teacher taught me the golden rule; that you should treat people the way you want to be treated.

I had a lot of fun thinking about what I would wear for the show.

I had a lot of fun in class, my teacher was really nice, and I think everyone in the world is nice too.

When the class is over I will miss my teacher.
